

An Evening About ... LEARN ENGLISH

Thursday April 2, 2015

Raquel Sanchez and Jeane Caveness

Co-Program Vice-Presidents

April's Branch meeting, sponsored by Public Policy Committee, will be a dinner and speaker at the Holiday Inn near the Long Beach airport. Featured in a Los Angeles Times article in December, "A New Focus on English Learners" discussed the work of a Long Beach non-profit agency called Californians Together. Executive Director Shelly Spiegel-Coleman will be our speaker. Note the meeting times on the back page.

Californians Together is a statewide coalition of parents, teachers, education advocates and civil rights groups committed to securing equal access to quality education for all children. Founded in 1998 after the passage of Proposition 227, Californians Together joined with other organizations to foster full participation in a democratic society through quality education for children and parents from underserved communities. Public education of all students is one of the goals of AAUW. In order to break educational and economic barriers, it is imperative that we have educated people who can read, write and speak English and our public schools are given that mission. They serve everyone. Join us for this important and educational meeting.

This once a year evening meeting begins at 5:00. Plan to join us for the speaker and dinner at the Holiday Inn Long Beach. Look for the tower at 2640 N. Lakewood Blvd. near the Long Beach airport.

We welcome members and friends to learn more about this group that "champions the success of English Learners."

Many thanks to Alex Bellenger, Mina Naghavi and Brittani Bolanos for staffing the AAUW branch information table during the event. THE HUNTINGTON

Branch President Flo Pickett, AAUW member and Executive Director of the LBCC Foundation Ginny Baxter, and Long Beach Unified School District Board President Diana Craighead welcomed 222 7th-grade and 8th-grade girls to the 12th Annual STEM Career Conference, held at Long Beach City College Liberal Arts campus, before keynote speaker Ana Jimenez inspired the girls with her story. Ana encouraged the girls to know what they want and don't want, to be true to themselves when it comes to boys, and to get a college education so they have a say in their futures.

After the keynote address, the girls each attended two 40-minute workshops featuring women in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) careers. The workshops, with fun hands-on activities, were presented by:

Marchell Bailey, Registered Dietitian, Little Company of Mary
Karen Bloch, Chiropractor, Bloch Chiropractic, and co-owner, Complete Concepts
Maggie Chang, Audiologist, Providence Speech & Hearing
Deborah Der, Financial Advisor, Edward Jones
Carolyn Duclayan-Vizmanos, Public Health Nurse, Orange Co. Health Care Agency
Rhonda Gilyard, Chemical Engineer, TABC, Inc.
Megan Moscol, Sustainability Engineer, California State University, Fullerton
Brianna Pagan, Environmental Scientist, Long Beach Water Department
Kathy Rantowich, Structural/Civil Engineer, MHP Structural Engineers
Raquel Sanchez, Automotive Production Engineer, TABC, Inc.

Partnering agencies this year were Franklin Classical Middle School, Hamilton Middle School (member: William Feliciano), Jefferson Leadership Academies (member: Marisela Moreno), Muir Academy and Powell Academy for Success.

Thank you to the 60+ volunteers who helped to make this year's STEM conference the most successful and smoothly run to date! Special thanks to the chairs who spent many hours overseeing the many details: Debra Blumberg (Food), Darlene Daclan (Volunteers), Norma Grady (Registration), Marie Kiss (Research), Michelle Kiss (Facilities) and Deloris Mayuga (Program).

A special shout-out to William Feliciano, who garnered most of the interesting items for the girls' goody bags as well as composing the crossword and word search puzzles, to Becky Low for collecting data for our first year of research on the effectiveness of the STEM Conference, to Marisela Moreno for suggesting a Champion Teacher from a potential sixth middle school for 2016 who came out to see what it was all about, to Pat Ferrer for a most welcome and delicious pizza thank-you dinner for the volunteers, and to Gail Morrison who garnered great press with an excellent pre-event article in the Grunion Gazette by new staff writer, Rebecca Mata, who attended to take photos for a second article.

The Port of Long Beach and TABC, Inc. both gave substantial financial resources, underwriting a good portion of the expenses of the conference. Their support is very much appreciated. For the donation of goody bag contents and the discounted use of facilities, we also wish to acknowledge Ginny Baxter and Long Beach City College, California State University – Chancellor's Office, Farmers & Merchants Bank, Long Beach Storm Water, County of Los Angeles Sanitation Department, Museum of Latin American Art, Port of Long Beach, Shore Business Center, Linda Silver, ShurTech, Team Runner's High, and Tesoro.

The conference is indeed a collaborative effort, and as evidenced by the enthusiastic responses from the young women who attended, an inspiring and rewarding experience for all who participate. The comments from the students on their evaluation forms and the thank-you notes they wrote to the speakers are testament to the value of this event.

We look forward to the next STEM conference in February 2016. Our sincere thanks and appreciation to all the participants who made this a truly impactful event for the girls.
